STARTLING FACTS ABOUT CALIFORNIA

Dr. William G. Paden, city superintendent of schools in Alameda, as guest speaker at last Thursday's luncheon meeting of the Niles Rotary club at the Florence Restaurant, speaking on the topic, the Lure and Lore of California, presented a number of new and fascinating facts about California history.

For instance, he said the first English spoken on the North American continent was not spoken at Plymouth Rock in 1620, but at Drake's Bay in Marin County, California, in 1579, 41 years earlier, by Sir Francis Drake and his buccaneers, who put in with the Golden Hind for 30 days to make repairs.

He gave the history of the finding of the brass placque in 1938 near San Rafael by a local picnicker who sold the valuable memento to the University of California for $3,500. The British Museum would have paid much more for the unique souvenir of one of their subjects, a trophy which archaelogists have searched for for a century, including the speaker, Dr. Paden.

— First "New England"

He said the first "New England" was not established on the East Coast, but on the West Coast. Drake claimed the country around Drake's Bay in Marin County and called it New Albion, which means New England.

The Chinese, back in the fifth century, were the first discoverers of the west coast of North America, long before Columbus' time, he said. Their junks frequently got caught in what is now known as the Japan current and would drift onto the shores of North America.

— Chinese in Peru

Chinese surviving these lengthy trips infiltrated into Peru, where to this day certain Chinese customs are observed in the Peruvian religion, and a certain type of knot characteristic of the Chinese is still used in Peru to secure suspension bridges. Certain Chinese Characters are still in use in the native Peruvian chirography.

The word Mexico is Indian for century plant, or fushan in Chinese. The aborigines used the bark for paper and string and the pulp for a kind of baked bread.

The Chinese were the first settlers in western Americas, then came Indians from Asia via Russia and Alaska; then the Spaniards, and lastly the Pilgrims, the latter on the east coast.

Japan was known to the civilized world long before Commodore Peary plasted its ports open in. 1853 Back in 1650 the Spaniards tried to open trade relations with Japan, but failed.

The Spanish began their colonization in California in 1769 when Fr. Junipera Serra established Mission San Diego and the string of Missions which still extend northward as far as Sonoma.

— First Citizens

De Anza and 248 followers were the first to establish themselves on the shore of the Bay of St. Francis at what is now San Francisco. Subsequently great land grants were given by Mexican Governors to the renowned early day Spanish families: the Peraltas, Pio Pico, Alvarados, Berryessas, Pachecos, etc. There were never more than 3,500 Spaniards in California at any one time, because in some cases only 10 persons lived on a land grant containing thousands of leagues.

The newcomers had to turn to stock-raising and agriculture in order to keep from starvation. There was no overland supply before 1849 and vessels taking the six months sail around the Horn usually arrived with their foodstuffs spoiled, their drinking water polluted and their crews decimated by scurvy, he said.

One sailing ship put off from Monterey Bay with a cargo of beef and other foodstuffs for the San Franciscans, and arrived there, 125 miles away, 72 days later, after having been blown as far south as Baja California twice in succession. The old style sailing vessels could not tack into a head wind.

— Unique Statehood

California is unique in that it was never a territory. The great gold rush migration occurred in 1849; the settlers wanted statehood at once, and they got it on September 9, 1850.

The speaker said he had often travelled the Overland Trail as well as the route taken by De Anza from Mexico through Arizona into California, and the famous old California-Oregon Trail, all celebrated in song and story.

His wife had accompanied him on these many trips, had taken voluminous notes and this fall MacMillan will release her book on historical California to be called "Wake of the Prairie Schooner".

Secretary Louis Musick introduced the speaker, who almost did not arrive in time to speak, because of the prevailing storm.

David Dutton, landowner and former attorney of Walnut Creek, and a Rotarian who had visited Shanghai, Singapore, Cape Town and other foreign centers, and his son, were guests. President "Chick" Burdick presided.

IRVINGTON MAN'S FATHER IS BURIED IN PLUMAS COUNTY

IRVINGTON — Funeral services were held at Mohawk, Plumas County on Sunday for Chris Prouty 61 father of Jack Prouty, principal of the Irvington Grammar School. The elder Prouty had been an engineer with the Western Pacific Railway for 33 years.

He was born in Ione, Calif., to pioneer parents who were among the first to settle in Sacramento Valley. In addition to his son here he is survived by a widow, Myrtle, of Portola. He became ill while on duty about two weeks ago and died early Friday morning.

Christopher Columbus Prouty Sr. and his father left Ohio in 1848 with an emigrant train and spent four years crossing the plains. The elder Prouty died on the way west. The family settled in Amador County in 1852 at the place now called Ione. There Christopher Prouty met and married Miss Australia Bennett from Joplin, Missouri and proceeded to raise a family of fourteen children, produced in the following order: three sons and a daughter, three sons and a daughter, three sons and a daughter, finally two sons.

Nine of the children had survived until Christopher Columbus Prouty Jr. succumbed last week, leaving eight children living, as well as six brothers and two sisters.

Christopher Prouty Jr. was born on September 20, 1881 at Ione. Clio, now only a railroad station in Plumas County, once a thriving center, is where Jack Prouty of Irvington first saw the light of day. Jack returned to his duties at Irvington Tuesday night after experiencing big storms which held up the Western Pacific Railroad. He had to take a boat to reach Portola, where the last rites were held Monday, with the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen in charge. Interment was made in the Whispering Pines Cemetery at Portola. The late Mr. Prouty had been an engineer with the Western Pacific since 1910.

Rainfall Hits 13.99 Inches

There will be no more talk about a "dry spell" in Washington Township for awhile to come. The unprecedented, week-long cold snap ended abruptly on Wednesday, January 20, when the rain guage at the Southern Pacific depot in Niles received 2.06 of wetness up to 8 a.m. last Thursday. And that was that.

The seasonal total from July 1 to December 23 of last year was 7.86 inches. Since that date the following precipitation was recorded in the S.P. guage:

December 24	.35
" 26	.44
" 29	.37
January 2, 1943	.07
" 20	.07
" 21	2.06
" 22	.84

to make 4.20 of additional rain for that 30 day period, upping the seasonal total to last Friday to 12.06 inches of rain.

A pouring rain all night Friday added 1.46 of moisture up to 8 o'clock Saturday morning, boosting the seasonal total to 13.52 up to January 23.

The rushing waters of flood-swollen Alameda Creek washed out several hundred feet of gas mains under the old iron bridge at the entrance to Niles Canyon early, Friday morning, cutting off the gas supply to about 60 homes on the old Niles Canyon home, as well as causing a shutdown of work at the California Pottery plant.

P. G. & E. crews made repairs and restored service by slinging the mains under the floor of the old bridge, thus putting the pipes above high-water level according to manager A. J. Petsche.

The Alvarado district experienced something of a flood on Friday when Alameda Creek overflowed its banks, but it was believed the wetting would help rather than harm the present cauliflower crop in that district.

A sprinkle Sunday left .08 in the local guage up to Monday morning and heavy showers Tuesday night added .39 to Wednesday morning, bringing the seasonal total to 13.99 inches up to January 27.

"Love" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon Sunday, January 31, in all Churches of Christ Scientist. The Golden Text: "Keep yourselves in the love of God, looking for the mercy of our Lord Jesus Christ unto eternal life," (Jude 1: 21).

Other bible citations included: "Beloved, let us love one another: for love is of God; and every one that loveth is born of God, and knoweth God. . . . And we have known and believed the love that God hath to us. God is love; and he that dwelleth in love dwelleth in God, and God in him." (I John 4: 7, 16).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy. "No form nor physical combination is adequate to represent infinite Love. . . . . Divine Love in infinite. Therefore all that really exists is in and of God, and manifests His love," (pp. 256, 340).

Mrs. Anna N. Catlett, of Pleasant Grove, President of the Rebekah Assembly of California spent Sunday with Mrs. Catherin Parry.

SAFEWAY Homemakers' Guide

Hunches for Carry-Lunches

The lunchbox has assumed an important place in our daily menu these days. And sometimes it taxes the imagination to a straining point to keep those carry lunches from becoming monotonous. There are ways, though, of making them as appetizing as the other meals. And we're passing along a few hints that may help to add interest to meals that go to work.

THE BREAD'S IMPORTANT

Sandwiches are the mainstay of the lunchbox. . . and that means bread. Be sure the bread is fresh. Keep the crusts on because they add chewiness, and besides, crusts help to keep the sandwiches from drying out.

Vary the bread, too. There are a number of different breads to change ordinary sandwiches from day to day. One trick in a bread way is to spread the sandwich between two kinds of bread like white and whole wheat. Since nutrition is important, it's important to see to it that the white bread is enriched so that none of that important vitamin B is sacrificed.

MAKE THOSE FILLINGS HEARTY

Dainty sandwiches haven't any place in the workman's lunchbox Make them with fillings that stick to the ribs. Spread the bread first with butter, butter substitute, mayonnaise, salad dressing, or prepared sandwich spread. This steps up the flavor and keeps that freshly-made flavor.

The fillings should be generous . . . a third to a half the thickness of the bread. This is not the place to be saving.

MEAT FILLINGS—Cold cuts, cold roasts, meat loaves, canned meats, chicken, and fish are all welcome when lunchtime comes around. If you want to stretch them, then grind the meat and add olives, pickles, hard-cooked eggs or chopped cheese.

EGG FILLINGS — Chopped hard-cooked eggs with mayonnaise or mixed with relish, cheese, bits of leftover cooked bacon, ham, olives, relish or chopped nuts have that substantial quality that workers need.

CHEESE—Sliced cheese or chopped cheese mixed with dressings, meats, and relishes can add variety and deliciousness to that lunchbox.

PEANUT BUTTER—There are hosts of ways this favorite can be changed to avoid monotony. Send it along plain one day, mix it with honey, jam, jelly, sliced fruits and tomatoes for those other days.

About Peanuts and Peanut Butter

Did you know that peanuts and peanut butter contribute the same appetite sustaining qualities to the diet as does meat? Besides that, they're cram-packed with that terrifically important vitamin B you've heard so much about. They're a subtle food, too, for they can be slipped into the menu most anywhere to add much to the flavor.

SALADS GO FOR PEANUTS—Take most any salad, meat, vegetable or fruit, toss in a generous handful of chopped peanuts, salted or plain, and it's just that much better than it was before.

PEANUT - COTTAGE CHEESE SALAD—Blend in about half as much peanut butter as cottage cheese, then add your other favorite ingredients such as chives, onions, grated vegetables. It has the flavor that will please.

PEANUT BUTTER GOES SAUCY—A couple of teaspoons of peanut butter in white sauce do wonders for the flavor and color. It mingles easily with a bit of blending.

EDWARDS COFFEE

It's fresh . . . because it's preserved nature's own way—in the bean until you buy. Its rich quality blend, its full-strength hearty flavor, and its own particular "deep down goodness" assure you of more cups of good, steaming-hot, soul satisfying coffee for your money.

PRESS CUTCH PEDAL

Many motorists do not realize it, reports the Service Department of the National Automobile Club, but when starting the car in cold weather the clutch should be pressed down. This allows the starter to crank the engine without having to turn the transmission gears and results in easier and quicker starting.

Working Together

... though worlds apart

HANDLING HOT STUFF! That's the wartime job of Jim and his Dad. Jim is overseas on the firing line. Dad is at home keeping the power flowing to vital industries.

Since Pearl Harbor more than one hundred and fifty men of this company each month have gone into the armed forces of Uncle Sam. Many of these are sons of veteran employees.

These Dads are working with grim determination to step up the production of electric power, because that means the production of more war goods. These Dads are doing all they can to make sure that their sons, and all the other sons wearing the uniform, are the best equipped, the best clothed, the best fed men of any military power in the world.

Today the Dads and their fellow workers in the P. G. and E. ranks are delivering a greatly increased amount of power over two years ago. They have a pride in doing it. They have a pride in the equipment with which they work. There are giant powerhouses in the mountains, a vast network of interconnected transmission lines and distribution lines, together with substations, trucks and tools. All these are geared to take on the increasing demands for more power for war production purposes.

California can be confident these men will keep the kilowatts marching steadily on in war work, that the reserves will respond promptly if they are called upon.

Two developments of importance to Alameda County farmers highlighted news from the food production front during the past week. First is announcement of a program to increase production of three vitally important wartime food crops — potaties, dry beans, and fresh truck crops. AAA payments will be made to farmers who plant more than 90 percent of the acreage goals for these crops established for their farms.

For potatoes, payments will be made at the rate of 50 cents per bushel times the normal yield for the farm, for all acreage above 90 percent and up to 110 percent of the goal, of potatoes planted after February 1. The Department of Agiculture also announced that potato prices would be supported at 90 percent of parity.

For dry beans, payment will be $20 an acre for acreage between 90 and 110 percent of the farm goal, in addition to support prices of $5.60 per hundredweight for new crop U.S. No. 1 beans, cleaned and bagged, f.o.b. country shipping points.

Payments will also be made for achieving 90 to 110 percent of goals for specified fresh truck crops, including carrots, tomatoes, snap beans, and onions. Details of this program are now being worked out and will be announced as soon as possible.

Herbert W. Young, chairman ot the Alameda County USDA War Board and the AAA committee, announced that individual farm goals on crops affected by the new program are being set up, based on all available data. Alameda county growers who have facilities for inceasing production of these crops are urged to get in touch with the county AAA office at Hayward, in order to assist the committee in establishing goals. After goals are established, growers will have a 15 day appeal period in which inequalities may be corrected.

NEW CREDIT SETUP

Second important news announcement of the week was a new credit program to assist farmers in increasing food production in 1943. The Food Production Administration will make production loans available through county U S D A War Boards. The Alameda county representative is the Production Credit Corporation, 568 Castro Street, Hayward.

FARM LABOR SITUATION

Though the farm labor situation is still critical (available farm workers on January 1 were fewer than at any time since 1925), the liberalized draft deferrment requirements have eased the shortage slightly. Under recently announced provisions, the number of "war units" necessary to defer an essential farm workers has been lowered from 16 to eight in some instances, and even this is not the minimum in special cases. In addition, an experienced farm hand cannot be inducted until the U.S. Employment Service first has a 30 day period in which to place him in a necessary farm job elsewhere.

DAIRY PRODUCTS LIMITED

Production of ice cream, ice cream powders, milk mixes and malted milk products has been ordered cut to 65 percent of the average output during the period from December 1, 1941 to November 30, 1942. This will increase the supply of fluid milk, cheese, butter, and other "shortage" dairy products. It is estimated that the order will save enough milk to make 97,500,000 pounds of butter and 68,000,000 pounds of dry skim milk yearly.

BITS AND PIECES: Farm Security Administration and Commodity Credit Corporation are working together in an attempt to stop dairy cow slaughter, first by attempting to correct labor situations, and failing that, to sell cattle to other dairymen . . . Lumber for farm construction has been given a higher preference rating, thus allowing dealers to replace farm construction inventories . . . Essential war crops will get first priority on the limited supply of chemical fertilizer . . . A recent WPB order permits increased construction of simplified type milk cans . . . In a move to lessen pressure against price ceilings on such vital items as milk butter, cheese, eggs, and many meats, OPA has brought poultry and livestock mixed feeds under price control . . . More U.S. food is now going to Russia than to Britain.

The FARMERS CORNER

by RALPH H. TAYLOR

Executive Secretary Agricultural Council of California

The American people, as they begin to compute their income tax payments which will be due on March 15, are starting to get a new conception of the colossal cost of this war.

In tens of thousands of families, unless Congress substitutes some pay-as-you-earn plan for the present quarterly lump payment system before the tax is due, the money just won't be on hand to meet the bill on March 15 — and as Uncle Sam won't accept notes or excuses, that will mean borrowing to pay the tax collector!

The most serious situation, Treasury officials admit, will likely develop in groups which have not paid income taxes, or any considerable sum in direct taxes in the past — war workers, for example — but who are now earning big wages and must expect to pay accordingly.

To many farmers, the problem will be acute, too, for farm operating costs have risen so rapidly that a sharp disparity is showing up between "paper profits" and actual profits. But farmers, always having paid taxes, and always having wrestled with financial problems, will at least be more prepared for the shock and, as a class, will have probably been more prudent in putting something aside toward the inevitable day of reckoning.

One good result that may come of the big collective headache that all America will be suffering from on or about March 15 is a sharpened public interest in efforts which are scheduled to be made during the new Congress to cut out waste and bureaucratic extravagances in the normal functions of government, and to guard against needless padding and graft in war contracts.

The terrific pace at which United States tax payments have climbed during recent years — and not just during the war period, but long before the national emergency — is attested by a recent survey conducted by Ralph Hendershot, financial editor of the New York World-Telegram, which shows that American taxes are far in excess of those in Britain, despite the fact that Great Britain has been battling for its very life for several years past.

Reports Mr. Hendershot in The World Telegram:

"Do Britons have a heavier tax burden than Americans? The answer is No.

"So much loose talk has been indulged in during the past year by political leaders and others, including Secretary Morgenthau and Mrs. Roosevelt that The World-Telegram undertook to get at the facts.

"Total taxes to be collected in 1943 from people in the United States will approximate $317 per capita, according to leading authorities. This includes income taxes, both national and State, and all other taxes, hidden or otherwise.

"Total taxes to be collected from the people of Great Britain, using the same basis of computation, will amount to approximately $184 per capita.

"Income taxes alone will be somewhat higher in Britain in many instances, but that country depends to a much larger extent on such taxes than we do here. Ninety per cent of its total revenues will come from income taxes, as compared with but 72 per cent in the United States.

"It should be explained that it is impossible to make an entirely satisfactory comparison of their taxes and ours. This applies even in the case of income taxes. Their methods of application are different. Then too, the purchasing power of the British currency is different, even when pounds are reduced to dollars at the current rate of exchange of $4.03 to the pound. The National City Bank estimates that the pound has a purchasing power equal to from $6 to $8. This means that the incomes of the British, after the payment of taxes have a higher purchasing power than comparable incomes here, based on the $4 pound.

"The over-all tax policy of the British allows for greater incentive to achieve financial success, too. For instance, it places no ceilings over earnings, it applies no capital gains taxes and no normal income taxes on income from investments. Morover, an individual is allowed an income of 2,000 pounds or from $12,000 to $16,000 in purchasing power from dividends before paying any surtaxes. In other words, he is encouraged to own corporate securities and to risk his capital in the purchase and sale of such securities. Through our taxation methods we discourage such things."

Now that we are all getting ready to pay the highest taxes in the history of our country, that comparison certainly gives us food for thought. If the British people are paying lower taxes than we are, after all that Britain has gone through from incessant bombings and threatened invasion, perhaps we should insist than Congress take a good, hard look at our taxes — and where the money is going.

CREDIT GROUPS HELP FARMERS WITH FINANCING

The twenty - five production credit associations in California played an important part in financing 1942's record breaking output of food for freedom. With the United States Department of Agriculture calling for even greater production in 1943, these same associations are doing everything possible to help farmers meet the new goals. The extent to which these cooperative credit associations assisted farmers last year is shown in a report just issued by S. P. Applewhite, vice-president of the Production Corporation of Berkeley.

In the past year $35,100,873 was loaned tolivestock men, fruit growers and general farmers; an all-time high and a gain of $6,382,607 over 1941. Increased costs of priorities, labor, transportation and supplies, and increased number of producers using the system for the first time were responsible for this gain.

California, along with Arizona, Nevada and Utah, comprises the Eleventh Farm Credit District, and the combined production credit loans made in these four states were $48,980,134 while loans outstanding were $14,778,910.

GAS RATIONING DROPS DECEMBER TAX 40 PERCENT

SACRAMENTO — Full impact of rationing hit California's gasoline tax income in December, R. E. Collins, Chairman of the State Board of Eqlalization, reported today.

According to Board records December taxable sales amounted to 108,573,680 gallons as compared with 180,988,610 for the same month of the previous year. This represents a decrease of 40 percent. The monthly tax dropped from $5,429,658 to $3,257,210.

The December total also was substantially below the $3,334,-952 reported for November.

Collins pointed out that the December figure probably represented an abnormal decrease inasmuch as most motorists started the month with a full supply of gasolne in anticipation of rationing.

The gasoline tax income for the 1942 calendar year amounted to $56,722,952 or nearly $7,000,000 under the total of $63,661,175 assessed by the Board during 1941. This loss of approximately 11 percent began in March when the State first began to feel the effects of the restricted distribution of tires and automotive equipment.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Krumbland of Byron spent the weekend at the home of Mrs. Anna Bradford.

A WEEK OF THE WAR

By: The Office of War Information.

Washington, Jan. 25 — in 15 months of lend-lease aid to Russia, the U.S. has shipped about 2,600 planes, 3,000 tanks and 81,000 military motor vehicles for Russian use against the Axis. The United Kingdom, also on a lend-lease basis, has supplied Russia with more than 2,600 tanks and more than 2,000 planes.

Reporting on United Nations aid to the Soviet Union, Lend-Lease Administrator Stettinius said we have shipped more planes and tanks to the U.S.S.R. than to any other country since the beginning of the lend-lease program, and since sufficient supplies of food are necessary to Soviet Army success as are planes and tanks, we are now sending more food to Russia than to the United Kingdom. Although the lend-lease program began in March of 1941, aid to Russia did not begin until October 1941. After a slow start, shipments began to increase and are still increasing, in spite of shipping shortages and enemy attacks along the supply routes.

The weapons that got through from the U. S. to Russia were only a trickle compared to Russian production, but at the same time American machines and parts, sent to replace vital elements lost when Russian industries moved to safety behind the Urals, were helping Russian factories to keep operating.

Thus American products have had a part in the fight these courageous people are waging against our common enemies—in the great drive westward, the battles that have destroyed quantities of Axis equipment and supplies and killed more Germans than all the United Nations put together.

But, the OWI points out, lend-lease is doing a job all over the world. The $7,496,000,000 in goods transferred and services rendered by the U.S. up to the end of last November strengthened the fronts from Russia to Australia. Africa, for example, has proved that lend-lease and fighting the war are the same thing.

LITTLE WAR LABOR BOARDS

Under a sweeping decentralization program, the National War Labor Board is establishing 12 regional War Labor Boards, with full authority to make final decisions in labor disputes and in voluntary wage and salary adjustmens cases. Each of the regional boards will be set up on the NWLB tri-partite system of public, employer and labor representatives. William Davis, chairman of the NWLB, said that under this plan wage stabilization will be done promarily in the field, with the NWLB in Washington sitting as a sort of supreme court selecting its own cases for decision by orders for review. Only policy defining cases will be brought to the national board.

In October 1941, the NWLB was given the task of stabilizing wages and salaries, of assuming jurisdiction over the wage and salary rates of roughly 31,000,000 employees of some 300,000 non - agricultural business enterprises ranging from restaurants to huge war factories.

The Board found that between January 1941 and May 1942, when the President announced his seven-point anti-inflation program, the cost of living had gone up 15 percent. During that time, about two-thirds of all manufacturing wages had also risen at least 15 percent. Therefore, in ruling on wage increases, the Board felt that those whose wages had already risen high enough to cover the cost of living increase should not be granted further general increases, but that all others were entitled to have their average straight-time rates brought up to a point 15 per cent above the January 1941 level.

THE WAR FRONT

Japanese pockets of resistence in the Sanananda area of Papuan New Guinea — all that is left of the Japanese Papual Army of 15,000 shock troops — are rapidly disolving before American and Australian troops.

The American position on Guadacanal has improved much in the past week, since the capture by U. S. troops of Mount Austen, last Japanese position dominating Henderson Field, and the United Nations position in the Pacific war is now more favorable than at any time since the Marines first landed on Guadacanal in August 1942. Incidentally, although for several months the Marines have been operating jointly with Army troops in the Solomons area, most of the Marines have now been replaced by Army Personnel. This week, Maj. Gen. Alexander M. Patch, U. S. Army, took command of American forces on Guadacanal, relieving Maj. Gen. Alexander A. Vandergift, U. S. Marine Corps.

During the five-day period of January 13 to 17 inclusive, our forces killed over 1,000 Japanese in various actions on Guadacanal. Even in the air, Japanese strength in the Solomons is growing steadily weaker. Maj. Gen. Millard Harmon commander of Allied air and ground troops in New Zealand, pointing to the enemy's dwindling supplies of all categories of combat aircraft and lack of pilots, said the Japanese are definitely short in meeting requirements of their air forces.

From North Africa the Middle Eastern Command, reporting the progress of the British Eigth Army toward and into Tripoli, said American and British planes are keeping up their relentless attacks against Tripoli and against Castel Benito airdrome. The raids on Tripoli harbor have been aimed at facilities the Axis might try to use for evacuation. Air activity in Tusisia continues.

SIZE OF ARMED FORCES

According to Under Secretary of War Patterson, the size of the armed forces is a military problem that should be left to the military leaders to work out. Citing President Roosevelt's figure of 7½ million in the Army by 1944 and estimates of more than 2 million in the Navy and Coast Guard, Patterson said 10 million men in the Army and Navy is less than one out of every 13 of our population. Germany has one out of every 10 under arms, Britain has one out of every 10, and Russia's proportion is fully as high. "To say that we Americans cannot maintain one in thirteen is . . a note of defeatism . we cannot leave the hard work of fighting to the British, the Russians and the Chinese. And a war like this one cannot be fought, certainly it cannot be won, without an Army and a Navy of a size adequate to the task."

To help farmers increase production in 1943, Agriculture Secretary Wickard has made available through the food production administration a new source of credit for the production of essential war time food and fiber. Between $200,000,000 and $225,000,000 of additional funds will become immediately available at the county level, and the loans at five percent interest), which will be made through the regional Agricultural Credit Corporation, will be limited only by the amount needed to do the production job.

COST OF FOOD

Although admitting that the farmer's share of the consumer's food dollar is now larger than it has been in many years, Wickard said the retail cost of food now represents the smallest share on record of the industrial worker's income. According to data available for the first 11 months of 1942, the retail cost of food for the average industrial worker's family amounted to 28 percent of the worker's earnings, a record low in relation to income, while the farmer's share of the consumer's food dollar averaged 53 percent, the largest share since 1920.

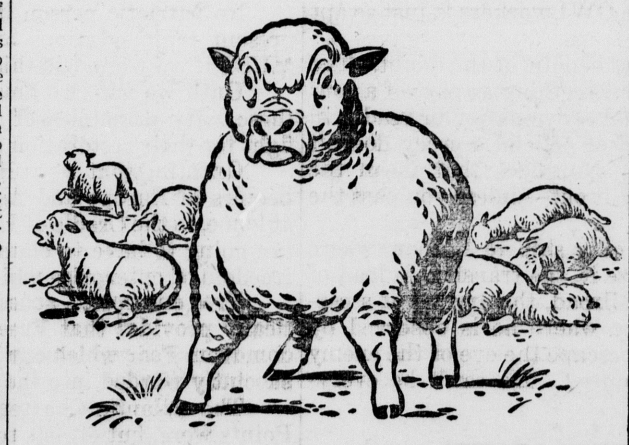
FARM MANPOWER

The Manpower Commission's Selective Service Bureau has liberalized the requirements for agricultural deferments, expected to keep many additional workers on the farms. The revised guide-approved by the Agricultural Department, the WMC, the farm organizations and other groups — provides that a local draft board may be justified in some cases in deferring an agricultural worker producing as little as eight war units of essential products. While emphasizing that the national objective is still a minimum per-worker production of 16 or more war units, the new guide no longer considers 16 units a standard.



THE RAM THAT KNOWS THE RATTLE OF MACHINE GUNS

We take great pride in our livestock, for we have some of the best to be found anywhere.

England also takes pride in its livestock. Many of our breeds of cattle, sheep and horses come from there.

We think farming has been hard this past season, with the shortage of labor and machinery. It has been harder elsewhere. In England, for example, feed is scarce, meats are needed badly by the people, and German airmen machine gun the farm animals in the fields every chance they get. We must remember this all the time—and buy War Bonds —all that we possibly can.

There are two good reasons for buying War Bonds. The first is that it will give our boys the guns and planes and tanks they must have. The second is that War Bonds are a sound investment. They never depreciate in value. They return a third more than the original cost in ten years. You can cash them if you need the money any time after sixty days. Buy Bonds now—to help your country and to help yourself—at your bank or post office.

RED AND WHITE 1943 AUTO TABS NOW AVAILABLE

ONLY ONE WEEK REMAINS TO APPLY FOR NEW LICENSES

SACRAMENTO—Red and white tabs — the 1943 version of motor vehicle license plates adopted to save steel are making their appearance here and in several other parts of California for the first time today.

Announcement that the first consignment of the tabs has been received by the Department of Motor Vehicles for distribution was accompanied by a warning from Director Gordon H. Garland that motorists have only one week left in which to apply for 1943 registration renewal. Approximately 1,000,000 motorists have not yet filed applications.

In anticipation of record breaking crowds, Garland announced he has issued orders for the 75 branch offices maintained by the Department throughout the State to remain open for business next Saturday afternoon instead of closing at noon as hitherto. Extra help has been employed for the last minute rush.

Renewal deadline will come at midnight of February 4th. Penalties equal to 100 per cent of the registration fee must be assessed against all who apply after that date if they have operated their vehicles since January 1st.

Although the Department does not expect to receive all of the license tabs ordered from the manufacturer for several weeks, serially numbered receipts are being issued to applicants. These permit legal operation of vehicles until license tabs are availabe.

"The main thing for all now is to hurry up and avoid penalties," Garland said. "Governor Warren is anxious that none pay additional charges for license tabs, but the penalties are set up in the Vehicle Code and we cannot change them."

FILM'S STIRRING MESSAGE MAKES SOFTIE OF NOLAN

Words did to Lloyd Nolan what the screen's most frightful heavies have never been able to do. They put a lump in his throat and tears in his eyes. Of course, the words were exceptional ones, but Nolan, a tough hombre in his own right, was a little embarrassed.

He is featured with Carole Landis, Cornel Wilde and James Gleason in 20th Century-Fox's "Manila Calling," the exciting story of America's first guerilla fighters. In the film which plays Sunday and Monday at the Niles Theatre, Nolan speaks these lines over a radio station captured from the Japs:

"Filipinos and Americans, we didn't surrender. We just ran out of soldiers, because the soldiers ran out of blood."

Then he exhorts the Filipinos to fight a guerrilla war against the Japs, until Uncle Sam gets back ready for the kill. It's a stirring call to arms. It must be if it moved Nolan, one of Hollywood's toughest But the fact is that it caused the first cinema tear to dampen his eyes.

LEASE-LEND will become GIVE-TAKE,

After this war is won the United States will be too busy (and happy) feeding the starving peoples of the liberated nations to be bothered trying to collect under Lend-Lease commitments.

So the Lend-Lease plan of 1939-43 will become the same old Give-Take as of the other war. And when all is said and done: what's the difference just so other people beside ourselves can live and be happy again?

We said the English, French and Germans welched on their First World War debts . . they in turn called U.S, "Uncle Shylock" . , so we granted the moratoriums, which ultimately became permanent.

Only little Finland went on paying and paying, each sum of principal and interest, in full when due, even after Pearl Harbor. And where is Finland now? In the same fix Spain was in during the Ideological civil war, where the facists and nazis, and even the communists, proved how rotten their systems were, when spread only from the mouths of blazing guns. You cant spread peace with a sword.

Russia is now redeeming herself while Finland takes the rap as France has taken it.

"Time is on the wing, and the bird of time has but a little way to flutter!"

BREAKING IT UP.

Governer Earl Warren has been on the job only a few weeks, and has he made the fur fly? The superannuated Civilian Defense Council with its 35 supernumerary employees has been lopped off and their relatively trifling duties assigned to a regular state department.

The unfortunate State Guard is now in a fair way of being properly reorganized and administered.

Governor Earl has completely taken the odoriferous Pacific States Savings and Loan scandal out of the hands of private attorneys, who thus far have collected $668,000 for "services". What services? The 43,000 certificate holders (of whom I am one) have not been paid off after soon-be four years of state mismanagement, so who is any better off, other than the grasping attorneys? Two-thirds of a million dollars for fees. Makes one wonder if corporation attorneys have any consciences?

The Governor has assigned the legal work conected with this pork-barrel assignment to the office of the attorney-general and the state's attorneys, who should have administered this 50 million dollar concern ever since it was seized by the state four years ago come Marsh. The Governor says the cost to the certificate-holders now will be but a fraction of what it was under the administration of private attorneys.

Praise be for that, and more honor to Governor Warren, who has actually got more things DONE in his first four weeks in office than his predecessors got done in their first YEAR,

"Flowers to the living" . . !

WEATHER OR NO.

And while we're taking our 13 inches of rain to date as quite the expected thing, with winter less than half over, cast a thought to Indio in the desert country of Riverside County, where Norman H. Parks former publisher here, now holds forth, Their average rainfall is three inches A YEAR, and one year they didn't even have a sprinkle. Even the gila monsters spat cotton!

Even at this time of year Indio's thermometers fall into the thirties every night, which is colder than ours' usually register; but by day they take off their jackets down there as the thermometer rises every afternoon to the middle seventies.

Come summer, perspiration will dew the editorial brow down south, as the tube tickles 125 degrees in the shade. And when THAT happens you will find W.W. sitting contently in his tri-cornered office at Niles, enjoying the shade of a big acacia tree, with a cool bay breezes stirring the 85 degree afternoons.

Editor Parks is welcome to Indio and the Indionus of boiling hot summers. I had nine of them in the San Joaquin Valley, since which time my address has been 804 West First street, NILES.

So much for "Arthur who?"

Speaking of last week's cold snap (and who wasn't?) a Niles lady hung out her washing Monday morning, January 18 at 9 o'clock and by 9:30 the garments were frozen stiff! In 30 years residence at Niles this lady says she had never seen that happen before. Hayward recorded an official reading of but 25 degrees that moring. Livermore 21 degrees and Pleasanton 18½ degrees. We'll let that stand for a record cold snap.

SOME FOLKS HAVE TALKED TOO MUCH

(From: Office of War Information.)

Military secrets will be in danger unless the public understands that every American has an important part in guarding wartime knowledge, the Office of War Information said today. Ship losses that have cost seamen's lives give evidence, OWI declared, that some Americans have talked too much. The suggested remedy is a realization of the individual's role and the use of more caution by everybody.

—It's your Responsibility

"Every man and woman has the same responsibility over information as the OWI staff, and the same kind of advice that is given OWI workers is just as apt for the public.

"Don't give the enemy benefit of the doubt. The fact that you have learned something as part of a routine job or heard it in casual conversation or read it in a latter that bears no seal of official secrecy doesn't mean it isn't important. Nor does that mean the enemy necessarily can find it out—unless you pass the word along.

"Even the presence of a ship in harbor, where many can see and recognize it, the transit o fa load of tanks, known along the railroad, the arrival of a certain expert in the factory where he is observed by hundreds of workers, may escape the eye of the enemy if you keep your own counsel. He can't be everywhere."

SOMETHING TO CROW ABOUT!

Every time I drink a cup of strong, piping hot coffee, with all the sugar and real cream I want, I breathe a sigh of gratitude that I am not one of the 200 million poor souls in Europe who also love their coffee - but dont have any.

And every time I fry a fresh egg and hear the pleasant sizzle of the toothsome morsel, turning a golden brown along the edges, I sigh for joy that I am just an ordinary Californian and not the King of England . . He only gets one egg per month.

Before RAF fliers take off on their gruesome missions of destruction and death they are given the special treat of one fried egg each. Perhaps this gastronomic luxury hen-enhances their ability to fight. Eggzackly!

A MATTER OF O-PINION

Rotarian George Stratton writes Editor Louis Musick of the Niles Rotary club's weekly bulletin requesting the official interpretation of the mechanical hieroglyphics which adorn the masthead of each issue: is it Pinion, Opinion, or Pini?

The first of the three names is qualified because Ye Ed now and then does go off on "flights of fancy"; the second title is obviously a matter of O-Pinion; but the last? Alas, there is no such word, unless it is a typographical error when drawing the word Pini for Mini. (Mini being miniature, and the Rotary club's mimeographed ebullition is a miniature noose-paper wherein an errant member now and then gets caught in a bight and thrown for a loop!)

The best brains at the Township Register (both of them) suggest that, since the publication is typically Californian, it might be called "Pinon" with a cedilla over the first "n", because it does contain a choice bit of meat once you break through its funny rhetorical shell. . . This is quite a nut to crack.

Ergo: you cannot have a mechanical pinion without also having a nut to hold it in gear. Bolts to you, Professor!

—On Pay Day, Buy Bonds—

THE "YOU" IN U.S.A.

The Richfield Reporter finished his newscast the other night with the trite sentence: "YOU are the important part of U.S,A." Thus summing up in one brief sentence the etnire ideal which inspired the Founding Fathers . .

They who wrote "All men are created equal"; "Life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness' — (and the "poor suit" of happiness is not a zoot-suit!) — "A Government for the people, by the people, of the people", "taxation without representation is tyranny", "give me liberty or give me death" . . (not WPA or SRA!)

America has wandered a long way from these founding principles during the past decade. How near can we come back to them after the war is won? . . . . .

The sum total of you and me and everybody else makes the "You" which comprises the U.S.A, Yet government, since the depression, has wandered far from the ideal of a "government of the people, by the people, for the people." It has become a government "of the people, by the bureaucrats, for the record"!

No patriotic person breathes a word against the present regimentations and restriction which are a MUST if we are to win this war, as of course we will.

Until we win, we must keep alive in our breasts these lofty principles of American Freedom — and fight for their restoration after the war.

Granting that we will have to police and feed the peoples of Europe and Asia after the war, still, here at home, in the Cradle of Liberty, the American People are going to have to clamor for a restoration of that freedom of enterprise which made America great.

Free enterprise, successfully prosecuted, automatically provides that Freedom from Want and Freedom from Fear which our President and Mr. Churchill succintly worded into the Atlantic Charter.

The Atlantic Charter is, and Wilson's Fourteen Points were, but efforts to refresh the minds of world leaders regarding our basic and permanent charters: the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution of the United States. Both these priceless ducuments are still, and ever will be, vital guides for our future national conduct and government.

How about YOU in U.S.A?

We'll surely win thewar now that our women have to hand-slice the family loaf of bread! Of all the foolish regulations, this is it. The big bakers say there is no saving in man power because the slicing machines are all automatic. Meantime there'll be more waste of bread. There would be a rush to buy those old-style scalloped-edged bread knives we all used a generation ago, were such knives to be had.

SCORE: 35 to 0

Gabby Goering must be having a headache as figures reach him of the destruction of his getting-obsolete luftwaffe as they meet the real, modern, streamlined opposition of America's fighter planes in the Mediterranean region.

A Sunday report told of 50 of Germany's best Messerschmitt and Focke-Wulfe fighters trying to stop a fllight of American Flying Fortresses on a bombing mission, protected by American Lightnings.

After the dog-fights were over NINETEEN nazi planes had crashed in flames and SIXTEEN others limped away, put out of action. Total German losses: 35.

Our losses? NONE. Planes and airmen hit and hurt, but the bombing mission was completed and all our planes and men got back to base safely.

One can hear Hitler screeching fro mhere! Pour it onto 'em boys! We're behind you, 135 million strong. (The other five million are in the armed services. They are with you, too!)

Says a radio wit: The Japs on Guadacanal are suffeering from MacArthuritis . . and that isn't rumortism !

LAST CALL FOR AUTO LICENSES

If you haven't applied for your 1943 auto license yet, it's high time you did so, according to Gordon Garland, new director of the State Motor Vehicle Department, for the renewal period expires at midnight of February 4 and tardy applicants will be penalized by double registration fees and a 50 per cent increase in their vehicle license fees, This year, Mr. Garland reports, motorists have been unusually slow in renewing their registrations and there will be thousands of delinquencies unless late-comers get busy and mail in their applications during the next few days. Figuratively, at least the time has come for autoists to step on the gas!

OFF is Lopped OFF.

Have you missed it? One of our former familiar government bureaus has been dismantled. It is the O.F.F.: Office of Facts and Figures, now replaced by the Office of War Information. The latter is doing a good job, too.

WOMEN AT WAR

That American women are taking a larger and larger part in this, America's greatest and most savage war, is readily seen in the want ad section of a nearby daily paper. Ads for men wanted for war industries fill only one-third of a page; the ads seeking women for manual labor as well as office work daily cover more than a page.

Just a sign of the times that women can use their hands as well as their heads, and that their age-old, immemorial function of being wife, mother and housekeeper is now being supplemented by a chance to do something productive, and of a public nature.

How many of us will recogniz ethe New America —and the New World — after this war is won??

SPEAKING OF ANNIVERSARIES

It was only 28 years ago this week that the first trans-continental telephone conversation was held, as Alexander Graham Bell in New York talked with Thomas W, Watson in San Francisco.

The transcontinental telephone has probably played no small part in taking California out of the "hinterland" category and making it a key state of the Union. And incidentally, speaking of anniversaries, it was a mere 95 years ago this week that James W. Marshall found the gold nugget in Sutter creek that really started the whole thing.

KEEP 'EM MARCHING

The "March of Dimes" is even more important, if that this possible in this year of war, than it was in the years of peace.

America needs its young people more than it ever did before to help build a brave new world. Let's keep the dimes marching against infantile paralysis so that all our children can march in the Victory Parade!

Official Tire Inspectors for Washington Township Announced

New Deadlines for "A", "B", & "C" Book Holders Are Advanced to Escape Rush

"The regulations require that 'A' book holders have their tires inspected every 6 months after the first inspection, "B" holders once in 4 months, and "C" and "T" drivers, once every 3 months.

"This periodical inspection routine was created for the express purpose of preserving the nation's remaining tire carcasses. . . It is important, when a tire wears down to the point where the carcass is endangered, that the motorist be given a certificate for a recapping job or replacement.

"The government has authorized tire inspectors to make a nominal charge of 25 cents per car where tire serial numbers are on outside of tires, plus a charge of 50 cents each where it is necessary to dismount the tire. Higher rates prevail for heavy truck tires."

The following OFFICIAL TIRE INSPECTORS have been appointed for Washington Township:

Ration Book Must Be Turned in at Car Sale

At this time of the year when transfers of ownership of automobiles are being recorded, motorists are urged by the National Automobile Club to comply with the ruling of the Office of Price Administrtion with regard to their gasoline ration books. The ruling is that upon change of ownership of a vehicle the ration book issued for that vehicle shall expire and all unused coupons and books issued therefor shall, within five days after such change, be surrendered to the issuing Board, by the person to whom such ration was issued. The transferee, or purchaser, should apply for a ration in his own name.
